Terps Honored At White House

On Jan. 20, 2000, the Maryland women's lacrosse team was rewarded for its five straight NCAA titles in one of the most prestigious ways possible, an invite to Washington, D.C. by the First Family. The Terrapins earned the chance to meet President Bill Clinton and First Lady Hillary Rodham Clinton when they defeated Virginia 16-6 in the 1999 NCAA title game to cap off a 21-0 season, capture their sixth title in the 90s, and continue their run as the winningest program in Division I women's lacrosse history.

Head Coach Cindy Timchal

A Decade of Excellence • Six NCAA Titles

Head Coach
West Chester '76
10th year at Maryland
19th year overall

If excellence is a measure of accomplishment, her six titles at Maryland speak volumes.

If excellence is a measure of character, the lives she touches and the student-athletes she molds represent an immeasurable impact on the people around her.

If excellence is a way to describe those who are admired by their athletes, revered by their peers, and respected by their community, then Maryland's head women's lacrosse coach Cindy Timchal celebrates nothing less then a decade of excellence at Maryland.

When Timchal arrived, the Maryland women's lacrosse program stood at a 201-69-3 (a .736 winning percentage). Under Timchal's guidance the Terps have elevated that program record to an astounding 349-80-3 (.808), making Maryland the winningest Division I women's lacrosse team ever. Timchal's record at Maryland—an astounding 148-11-0 (.931).

Past the numbers, though, Timchal has done her part to revolutionize the game of women's lacrosse. Eight years ago, she brought former Syracuse men's lacrosse standout turned Pittsburgh Crossfire star Gary Gait to Maryland to put his unique stamp on the Terrapin program as an assistant coach. Five years ago, she added the consultation of California-based sports psychologist Jerry Lynch to enrich the minds of her student-athletes in order to complement the already high level of physical training it takes to excel at the Division I level.

From the time of her arrival, Timchal has lost no more than three games in any one season, including a spectacular 21-0 season in 1999. She has taken her Terrapin teams to the NCAA finals eight of the past nine years. This year, Maryland will contend for an unprecedented sixth straight national title. Six straight. No other Division I women's team can boast a current streak of championships like Timchal has at Maryland.

While this year marks a decade of excellence at Maryland, Timchal's coaching career got its start at Northwestern in 1982. During her nine-year tenure with the Wildcats, she compiled a 76-40 record (.655) and amassed five NCAA appearances. While at Northwestern, Timchal made it as far as the quarterfinals, making appearances in the NCAA Tournament in 1984, '86, '87, and '88. In 1991, she came to the University of Maryland to continue the already long-standing tradition of Terrapin lacrosse.

The Terrapins' last title had come in 1986 under head coach Sue Tyler, but the Maryland dynasty began to re-emerge almost immediately after Timchal's arrival. Timchal's first year saw a 14-3 record and a trip to the NCAA finals. By 1992, the lacrosse world knew something big was about to happen in College Park. A place with a rich history in both men's and women's lacrosse, few could have predicted a dynasty so powerful on the horizon. With a 14-1 record, the Terrapins took the 1992 national title—just the third time in Maryland school history.

1993 would bring a heartbreaking 7-6 loss to the Princeton Tigers in the NCAA semifinals. The following year led to further frustration with the Tigers, as a 10-7 decision left the Terrapins just one win away from hoisting the trophy again. In 1995, however, Timchal and the Terps would turn the tables on the competition.

After the three-goal loss to Princeton in 1994, the Terps would go on to win 50 straight games. Timchal led the 1995 squad to a 17-0 run ending in a 13-5 defeat of Princeton for the NCAA title. Maryland would go undefeated again in 1996, finishing with a 19-0 record and a 10-5 decision over ACC rival Virginia to take home the hardware.

The 1997 season would begin with Timchal's squad wearing the label of back-to-back NCAA champions. A 21-1 season would see the Terps begin '98 as the three-time defending national champions, and come one goal short of putting together their third consecutive undefeated season.

The dynasty continued throughout the

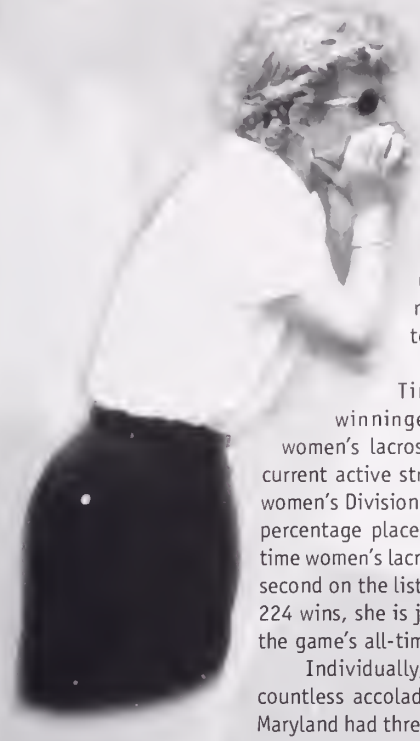
Five-Time Defending National Champions

1998 season despite a 0-2 start with losses to Duke and North Carolina. That season finished the same way as the previous three, ending with Timchal's Terrapins being crowned the NCAA champions once again, this time on an 11-5 win over Virginia.



Last season, the Terrapins were no less than the personification of a finely-tuned program from top to bottom. Timchal led Maryland to a 21-0 season, her third undefeated season since arriving in College Park, and the team's fifth-straight title.

Entering the 2000 season, Timchal is piloting the winningest program in Division I women's lacrosse history with the longest current active streak of national titles of any women's Division I program. Her .815 winning percentage places her 5th on the list of all-time women's lacrosse coaches. She is currently second on the list of all-time games won. With 224 wins, she is just 17 victories out of being the game's all-time winningest coach.

Individually, her athletes have earned countless accolades and awards. Last season, Maryland had three Brine/IWLCA first-team All-Americans for the second season in a row. Jen Adams led the nation in scoring in 1999, and earned Brine/IWLCA, ECAC, College Locrosse USA and e-locrosse Player of the Year honors. In 1996, Kelly Amonte became the Terps' first four-time All-American, including first-team honors in 1995 and 1996.

Thirty-one Terrapins have earned All-American recognition under Timchal including Amonte's four, (1993-96), and three each for Betsy Elder (1992-94), Sarah Forbes (1995-97), Laura Harmon (1993-95) and Sascha Newmarch (1996-98). Adams' selection as 1999 Player of the Year marked the eighth time one of Timchal's players earned National Player of the Year honors, including Amonte, who was named the 1996 NCAA Division I Most Valuable Player. Nationally, 14 of Timchal's players have played on the U.S. Developmental team.

Timchal not only produces champions on the field, but also in the classroom. In 1998, Sascha Newmarch earned GTE/CoSIDA Academic All-American. Betsy Elder was a two-time Academic All-American in 1993-94, while Theresa Ingram and Jamie Brodsky earned honors in 1994 and 1996, respectively.

Timchal attended West Chester University where she lettered in lacrosse, tennis and track and field. Following her graduation, she became an assistant coach at Unionville (Pa.) High School where she coached field hockey, lacrosse and basketball. In 1979, she joined the collegiate ranks, becoming an assistant lacrosse and field hockey coach at the University of Pennsylvania. Following one very successful season at Penn, she became the head coach at Northwestern. She spent nine years at the helm of the Wildcat program where she posted a record of 76-40 (.655). She coached the Wildcats to the NCAA Tournament five times, including three consecutive fifth-place finishes from 1986-88.

Coaching Staff

Gary Gait

Assistant Coach
Syracuse '91
7th year at Maryland

Assistant coach Gary Gait is in a league of his own when it comes to national championships. A former lacrosse player at Syracuse, Gait owns a piece of all of Maryland's last four national championships, and was a three-time national champion for the Orangemen. The 15 goals he scored in the 1990 NCAA Tournament is a tournament record, and his nine goals against Navy in 1988 is also an NCAA record for most goals in an NCAA Tournament game.

No single person in the game of lacrosse takes on as many roles as Gait. The most renowned collegiate men's lacrosse player in the nation during his competitive career, Gait elevated Syracuse to three national titles. A three-time All-American, he graduated as the Orange's career goal leader with 192. By career's end, he also owned the school's single-season goal record with 70, which he scored in 1988. His individual accolades included the Division I Most Outstanding Player award in 1988 and '90, and the 1988 and '89 Division I Most Outstanding Midfielder honors. Gait ranks sixth all-time on the Syracuse career point chart, totaling 253 points.

Gait, who is in his seventh season as head coach Cindy Timchal's assistant, has contributed greatly to the incredible amount of success that the Terrapins have achieved throughout the years, putting his unique stamp on the Maryland program. He is involved in every aspect of the Terrapin lacrosse program, including recruiting and scheduling.

The Victoria, British Columbia native played on three Canadian National Teams, including the 1998 World Cup team which lost to the United States in overtime, 15-14, in the championship. In that game, Gait scored three times and added an assist.

Following his graduation from Syracuse, Gait dominated the now-defunct Major Indoor Lacrosse league throughout the '90s, earning first team all-pro honors the final seven years and claiming the league's MVP award the last three. He is the MIL's all-time points leader with 369.

Two years ago, Gait signed with the Baltimore Thunder of the newly formed National Lacrosse League. In his first year with the Thunder, he captured MVP honors after leading the league in scoring with 40 goals and 32 assists, and shared the top goal-scoring honors with his twin brother, Paul. His 32 assists eclipsed the team record of 24 set in 1989 by Thunder coach John Tucker. In 1999, Gait once again dominated the league, scoring 17 goals and 20 assists and collecting MVP honors. This season, the Thunder relocated becoming the Pittsburgh Crossfire, and Gait continues to commute to games and practices while coaching the Terps.

In 1999, Gait tied the all-time record for goals in a game as he led the Thunder to a 21-10 victory against the Toronto Rock. Gait scored 10 goals and added four assists. The 10 goals equaled the record his brother Paul set while playing with the Philadelphia Wings in the-then Major Indoor Lacrosse League.

Gait is married to the former Nicole Black and they have two children, a daughter, Taylor (6), and a son, Braydin (3).

Cathy Nelson

Assistant Coach
Maryland '98
2nd year at Maryland

Cathy Nelson, the 1998 NCAA Tournament MVP, returns to the Terrapin family for her second year as an assistant coach at Maryland. Last year, Nelson was a student assistant coach and this year begins her first year as one of Maryland's full-time assistants. The second-leading scorer on 1998's NCAA championship team, Nelson finished her stellar four-year career ranked fifth all-time on the Maryland career chart in total points with 217. Her 140 goals rank her seventh all-time while her 77 assists placed her fourth all-time.

A two-time All-American and four-time national champion, Nelson graduated from Maryland in December of 1998, earning her degree in speech communications. She teaches middle school at Chapelgate Christian Academy when she is not coaching the Terps.

Sarah Forbes

Assistant Coach
Maryland '98
2nd year at Maryland

Sarah Forbes begins her second season as an assistant coach for the Maryland Terrapins after a decorated four-year career as one of the top offensive players in school history.

A three-time All-American and a four-year starter for the Terps, Forbes is tied for seventh all-time in assists (63) with current Terp Jen Adams and is 10th all-time in points (170) at Maryland. Her six assists against Brown in 1997 are also a Maryland single-game record.

The Australian native scored a team-high 58 goals in 1997 to lead the Terps to their third consecutive national championship. For her efforts, she also earned the National Offensive Player of the Year in 1997, and was named the Atlantic Coast Conference Female Athlete of the Year. An NCAA all-tournament team selection in 1996 and 1997, Forbes was a member of three national championship teams and one national runner-up team during her four-year career at Maryland.

A 1997 graduate of Maryland, Forbes received her degree in marine biology. This summer, Forbes looks to continue her education in graduate school.

Team Consultant
St. Francis
5th year at Maryland

Jerry Lynch is entering his fifth season as a consultant with the Maryland women's lacrosse team. He is a prominent sports psychologist who has worked with numerous collegiate teams, many of which have either advanced to the NCAA Final Four or won the NCAA title.

Lynch runs the Tao Sports Center for Excellence, a sports psychology firm, which is based in Santa Cruz, Calif. He has published eight books and has had 75 published articles.

The Terrapins have won five straight NCAA titles and three ACC titles since his arrival. Lynch also works with the field hockey team who captured the 1999 national championship and their second straight ACC championship. Maryland's women's basketball and volleyball teams also use Lynch as a consultant throughout their seasons.

After earning his bachelor's degree in English from St. Francis College, Lynch earned his master's degree in psychology from Penn State and his Ph. D. in psychology from the University of Pennsylvania. In addition, he has earned a Ph. D. in comparative religions from the American College of Theology and a master's degree in family and child counseling from California.

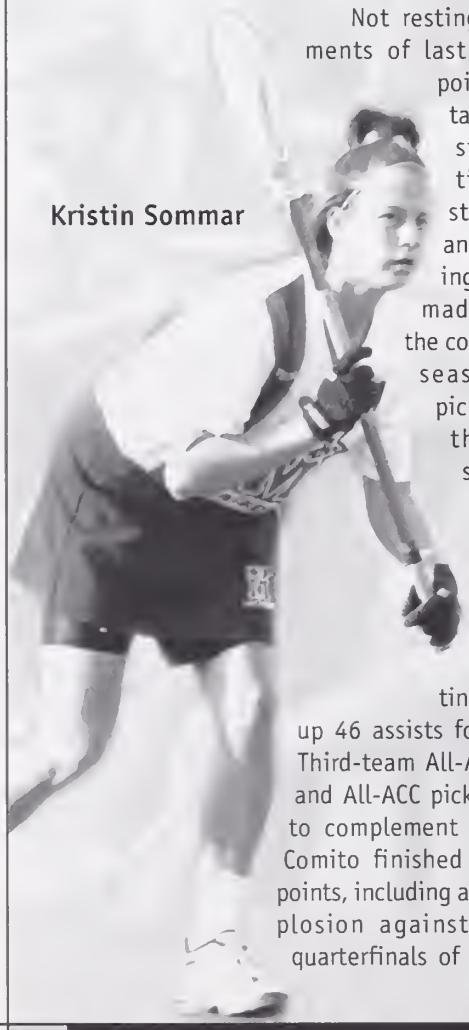
The 2000 Terrapins

2000 Season Outlook

The winningest program in women's lacrosse history, Maryland puts the longest active string of national titles by any Division I women's team on the line again this season. They graduated no one from the 1999 championship squad, a team that went 21-0 en route to its fifth straight NCAA title. Head coach Cindy Timchal and her squad, however, are not focusing on what other people expect from the defending national champions who have become synonymous with success during the '90s. As in the past, the Terrapins are focusing on what Maryland needs to do to continue to play at the highest level, and cutting out any outside factors.

"I think what's important for us this year, as it has been every other year, is to focus on setting a standard in lacrosse and focusing on what Maryland has to do," says Timchal of the Terps' point of emphasis this season. In her 10th year at Maryland, Timchal and her team are trying not to concern themselves with what their opponents and the media are saying. "We know that every team out there is strong, and we know we play the toughest schedule in the country. Our focus then is on what Maryland needs to do to play at the level we're really expected to play, and that's what we've been focusing in on all year in anticipation of this season."

Not resting on the accomplishments of last season, Maryland is poised and focused on the task at hand—winning a sixth straight national title. Returning are a stable of All-Americans and a dynamite supporting cast that has made the team the consensus preseason No. 1 pick entering the 2000 season.



Kristin Sommar

1999 Brine/IWLCA Player of the Year Jen Adams leads the Terps on the attack. Adams was the NCAA scoring leader last season, netting 71 goals and racking up 46 assists for a 5.57 ppg average. Third-team All-American Quinn Carney and All-ACC pick Allison Comito return to complement the Aussie on attack. Comito finished last season with 106 points, including a dynamic seven-goal explosion against Georgetown in the quarterfinals of the NCAA tournament, while Carney was the Terps' fourth-leading scorer with 45 goals and 27 assists.

Jen Adams

Junior Megan McNamara also returns as a starter for the Terrapin attack this season. Courtney Hobbs has put herself in position to vie for a starting spot on either the attack or in the midfield after joining the team in January.

Leading the midfield is two-year captain and senior Christie Jenkins. A first-team All-American, Jenkins was voted the 1999 ACC Player of the Year. The team's second-leading scorer, her 55 goals and 30 assists led the Terrapins' attacking midfield in 1999. Fellow captain Kristin Sommar is also another staple in the midfield for the Terps. A two-time Brine/IWLCA first-team All-American, Sommar also augmented the nation's No. 1 attack with 44 goals and 24 assists.

The Terrapin midfield showcases a host of other talents, including starters Courtney Martinez and key reserve Megan Kelly. Kelly moonlights with the Maryland field hockey

Timchal On The 2000 Season

"I think what's important for us this year, as it has been every other year, is to focus on setting a standard in lacrosse and focusing on what Maryland has to do," says Timchal of the Terps' point of emphasis this season.

"We know that every team out there is strong, and we know we play the toughest schedule in the country. Our focus then is on what Maryland needs to do to play at the level we're really expected to play, and that's what we've been focusing in on all year in anticipation of this season."

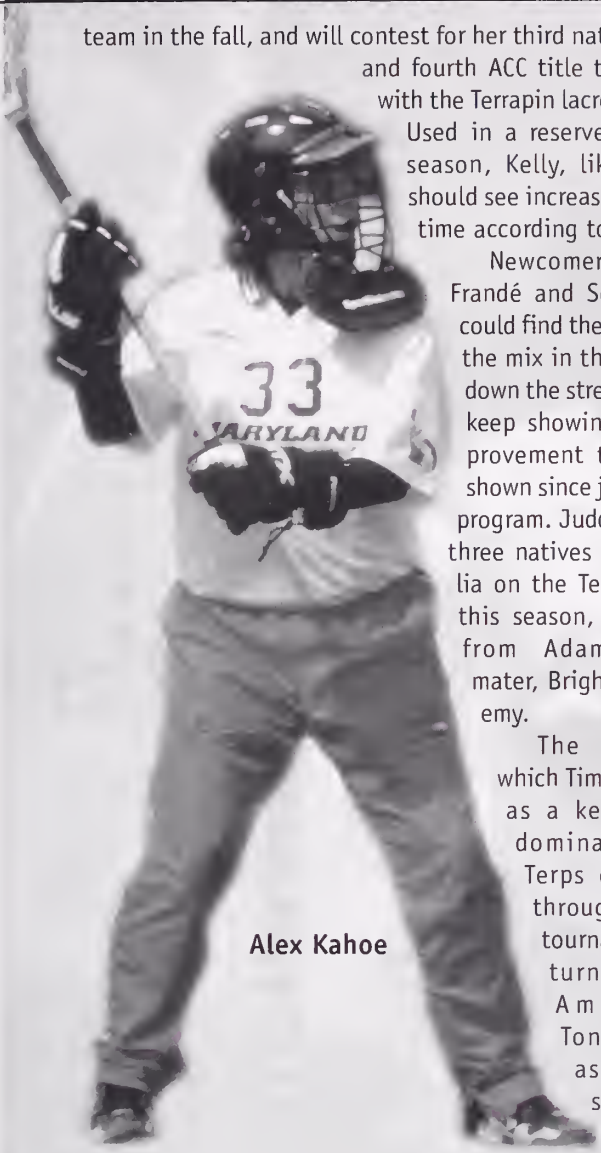
team in the fall, and will contest for her third national title and fourth ACC title this spring with the Terrapin lacrosse team. Used in a reserve role last season, Kelly, like Hobbs, should see increased playing time according to Timchal.

Newcomers Bridget Frandé and Sonia Judd could find themselves in the mix in the midfield down the stretch if they keep showing the improvement they have shown since joining the program. Judd is one of three natives of Australia on the Terps' roster this season, and hails from Adam's alma mater, Brighton Academy.



Alex Kahoe

The defense, which Timchal notes as a key to the domination the Terps exhibited throughout the tournament, returns All-Americans Tonia Porras as well as starters Kerri Mulligan and Tori Wellington. Porras, who is counted on to jump-start the offensive transition, was a second-team All-American by Brine/IWLCA and an All-ACC first-team selection. A junior, Wellington pitched in a 10 goals, with Mulligan starting every game on a defense that gave up an average of only 6.74 goals a game.

Junior Becky Shank saw a lot of playing time last year on the defense after redshirting for her first two seasons. Her sister, freshman Julie Shank, could also help fortify the defense, according to Timchal. Meg Carrington and Tara Foran are also two big, strong defenders that Timchal will use to shut down opponents.

Senior tri-captain Alex Kahoe returns in goal for the Terps after starting every game since her arrival in College Park. "It's exciting to have Alex in goal again this season, it's great to have that kind of experience back there," says Timchal of her All-American goalie, who compiled 245 saves last season. "It's great that she has had a lot of competitive experiences, and that's what you really want to have to create a good foundation."

The Terp team has always been built on a solid foundation of teamwork and unity, and the 2000 season is no different. The overwhelming emphasis is once again on the "we" and not the "I" of sports. According to Timchal, "I think our team has a solid foundation of what it's all about to be part of a team so it's never really a focus on who's going to start and who's not. We feel like everybody on our team makes a contribution, whether they are starters, or whether they get limited playing time."

With a solid base of talent and a group of newcomers 12-strong, the Terrapins must capitalize on the experience of the veterans and translate it to the development of the young players to ensure success again this season. "We certainly look for our returning players to have gone to the next level and step it up," says Timchal of her early-season prognosis. "For the new players in the program, it will be important for them to learn from practicing with the more experienced players as well as challenging them at practices so that if given the opportunity they can help us in game situations."

Quinn Carney

Returning six All-Americans including Player of the Year Jen Adams, the Terrapins have all the weapons they need to achieve their ultimate goal for the season, another national championship. With their sights focused on the principles of Maryland lacrosse, most importantly pulling together as a unit, the team of the '90s looks to continue its success into the year 2000.

A second-year captain for the Terps, Jenkins returns as the 1999 ACC Player of the Year. She was the team's second-leading scorer last season with 55 goals and 30 assists for 85 points. A deadly weapon in the midfield, she returns as the Terps' top scorer at that position. She is a preseason first-team All-American by College Lacrosse USA, Inside Lacrosse, and LaxPower. She has started every game of her three-year Maryland career and is a member of the U.S. Developmental squad. Jenkins will undoubtedly play a key role in the Terps' quest for a sixth straight title.

As a junior in 1999: Jenkins was named the ACC Player of the Year and also captained the team to its fifth straight national championship ... a first-team Brine/IWLCA All-American and a member of the ACC and NCAA all-tournament teams, she was Maryland's second-leading scorer with 55 goals and 30 assists ... her 55 goals in 1999 placed her fifth on the single-season goals list, while her 30 assists are tied for eighth-highest single-season total, and her 85 points are the fourth-highest single-season total in Maryland history ... she finished 16th nationally with her 4.05 goals per game average ... her career-high seven goals came against Harvard (4/11) ... had 10 other games with three or more goals, including five-goal totals against Dartmouth (3/20) and North Carolina (4/24), four-goal efforts against Virginia in the ACC championship game (4/25) and Georgetown in the NCAA quarterfinals (5/8), and three-goal games against Penn State (3/2), Old Dominion (3/27), Temple (3/30), James Madison (4/3), Towson (4/7), William & Mary (4/21), and Penn State in the NCAA semifinals (4/14) ... scored in every game but the North Carolina (3/7) and the Virginia (3/16) contests ... her career-high four assists came against Towson (4/7) ... her career best for points is eight, set in 1999 against Harvard (4/11) ... she took 139 shots and scooped 55 groundballs ... she started all 21 games for the Terps, had 25 draw controls and forced 42 turnovers.

Attack
Junior
5-8
Marino,
S. Australia
Brighton

Undoubtedly one of the Terrapins' shining stars in 1999, Jen Adams led the team, and the nation, with her 71 goals and 46 assists. In the wake of her Player-of-the-Year season in 1999, Adams has been selected a preseason first-team All-American by College Lacrosse USA, Inside Lacrosse, and LaxPower. Just a junior, Adams will be one of several Terps that will be closely marked by opposing defenses trying to stop Maryland's run for six straight titles. One of three Australians on the team, Adams starts this season with 98 career goals and 63 assists in two years. Her totals in both goals (71) and points (117) last season established new school records at Maryland. Previously, Terp legend Kelly Amonte had held the record for goals in a season with 62, and most points in a season with 110. Adams missed tying the individual record for assists by two. She is tied with Sarah Forbes for seventh in career assists at Maryland with 63.

As a sophomore in 1999: Adams started the first game of the Terps' undefeated season with four goals against Penn State and never looked back ... she was named the Brine/IWLCA, College Lacrosse USA, e-lacrosse, and ECAC Player of the Year ... a first-team All-ACC selection, she scored in every game but the Old Dominion contest ... had 18 multiple-goal games, including a seven-goal explosion against North Carolina (4/24) in the Terps' overtime contest in the ACC tournament ... was selected the 1999 NCAA Tournament MVP after compiling 11 goals and five assists to help the Terps capture their fifth straight title ... Adams had 10 points against both Temple (3/30) and North Carolina (4/24) in the ACC tournament ... for her dynamic efforts against North Carolina in the opening round of the ACC tournament and her three goals in the ACC finals against Virginia, she earned ACC tournament MVP honors ... had a season team-high five assists during the 23-5 win at Temple ... had six games with five or more goals, and added three more four-goal efforts ... Adams earned ACC Player of the Week honors four times during the 1999 season, more than any other ACC player ... she started every game, controlled 77 ground balls and had 47 draw controls.

Season Review Notebook

Terps Crowned National Champs

The defending national champion Maryland women's lacrosse team, and the 1999 ACC champions, defeated Virginia, 16-6, in Sunday's NCAA championship game to capture its fifth consecutive national title. Maryland opened a quick 4-0 lead in the opening 9:44 and never looked back. The Terps built an 11-2 lead by the intermission en route to the 10-goal triumph. The Terps ran the score to 16-2 before Virginia scored its third goal of the game with five minutes remaining in the second half. The Cavaliers would score their next four goals with the majority of the Terp defensive starters out of the game.

Terps Set Three NCAA Records

Maryland established three national collegiate championship game records in its 16-6 win against Virginia. The Terps scored the most goals in one half (11), the most goals in one game (16), and established the largest margin of victory (10).

Adams Earns Tourney MVP

Maryland sophomore attack Jen Adams, who set single-season records in both goals (71) and points (117), earned NCAA Tournament MVP honors after posting four goals and two assists against Penn State in the national semifinal game, and totaling four goals and one assist in the national championship game against Virginia. Also named to the all-tournament team were sophomore attack Allison Comito and juniors Christie Jenkins, Alex Kahoe and Kristin Sommar.

Terps Finish Perfect Season

Maryland concluded its national championship season with a perfect 21-0 record. The 1999 team is only the third in Maryland women's lacrosse history to run the table, as the 1995 and 1996 squads finished at 17-0 and 19-0, respectively.

A Decade of Champions

The 1990s have been crowned the most successful decade in Maryland women's lacrosse history. The Terrapins have won six national championships, including their record fifth consecutive in 1999, in the last eight years, and eight national titles in the history of the program. The eight championships are the most by any school. The Terps have reached the NCAA finals an unprecedented 16 times, including nine of the last 10 years. The Terps are also the first team in women's Division I lacrosse history to win five consecutive national championships.

The Cast Of All-Americans

Jen Adams leads a cast of six Terps who received postseason All-American honors in 1999. Adams earned Brine/IWLCA, College Lacrosse USA, e-lacrosse, and ECAC Player of the Year honors. Highly decorated for her postseason efforts, Adams was also named NCAA and ACC tournament MVP.

The remaining Terps were not without their own special recognition, as Christie Jenkins led the parade of first-team All-Americans which included fellow captain Alex Kahoe. Jenkins was also named ACC Player of the Year. Defender Tonia Porras rounds out the Terrapin first-team All-Americans. Kristin Sommar (second-team) and Quinn Carney (third-team) were the two other Terps to receive All-American recognition for Maryland's championship season.

Terps Show They Can Score

Maryland's 331 goals scored was its highest total in school history, breaking the old record of 286 in 21 games which was set by the 1998 team. Maryland finished the year averaging 15.76 goals per game which also is a new school record, breaking the old record of 14.40 which was set in 1996.

Terps' Win Streak Climbs To 28

Maryland enters the 2000 season winners of its last 28 games, including a perfect 21-0 record in 1999. The Terps haven't lost since their ACC semifinal game to North Carolina on April 18, 1998. Maryland holds the longest win streak in men's and women's Division I lacrosse with 50 games which was set during the 1995, 1996 and 1997 seasons. Loyola snapped the streak on April 22, 1997.

Adams Breaks Amonte's Record

Maryland sophomore attack Jen Adams broke former Terp Kelly Amonte's single-season goal and points records this season. Adams finished the year with a school-record 71 goals and 117 points. Her 46 assists ranked her two shy of Amonte's 48 assists in 1996.

Jenkins & Adams Moving Up Charts

Junior Christie Jenkins and sophomore Jen Adams are making a mark in the Maryland all-time career assist record book. Adams jumped into the top 10, and is now tied for seventh with Sarah Forbes with 63 career assists. Jenkins is two assists shy of cracking the top 10 after posting a career total of 50 during her three years.

Jen Adams led the way on offense for the Terps as she totaled four goals and an assist, while Kristin Sommar and Christie Jenkins each scored three goals to lead Maryland to a 12-8 win against Penn State in State College, Pa.

Maryland rocketed to a 5-0 lead in the opening 10 minutes before Penn State's Colleen O'Brien put the Lions on the scoreboard. The Lions scored the next four goals and got as close as 7-6 before Sommar's second goal 25 seconds before the half created an 8-6 Terp advantage. A pair of goals by Adams wrapped around another score by Sommar pushed Maryland to a 11-6 lead.

The Lions' Emily Mechem had two solo goals and Jenkins added another goal for the Terps to complete the scoring.

On defense, Maryland's Alex Kahoe totaled a season-high 17 saves while allowing eight goals, and Penn State received a magnificent performance from Megan Ames who totaled 20 saves while allowing the 12 goals.

Midfielder Kristin Sommar scored at the 3:49 mark in the second half, breaking open a 6-5 game, and leading the No. 1-ranked Terrapins to an 8-5 win against the sixth-ranked Duke Blue Devils at Ludwig Field. Sommar's goal marked the Terps' first goal of the second half after they took a 6-2 lead at the half.

Duke opened the contest at the 28:18 mark in the first half off an unassisted goal by Tricia Martin. Maryland's Christie Jenkins got the Terps on the board first at the 25:08 mark. The Terps then went on to outscore the Blue Devils 5-0 before Martin would net Duke's second goal at the buzzer.

Duke then went on a mini-scoring drive of its own, outscoring the Terps 3-0 to start the second half. Sommar's goal followed by attack Quinn Carney's goal with one second remaining capped off the Terps' scoring drive. It marked Carney's third goal of the evening.

Kristin Sommar scored a career-high four goals and attack Jen Adams added three to lead the top-ranked Terrapins to a 13-7 win against the second-ranked North Carolina Tar Heels at Ludwig Field.

The Tar Heels and Terps played seven minutes into the first half before North Carolina's Christine McPike recorded the first goal of the day at the 23:14 mark. Maryland would strike back three minutes later off an unassisted goal by Adams. The two teams would exchange goals before Terrapin attack Quinn Carney's goal from Allison Comito broke a 3-3 tie at the 8:30 mark. Sommar would net her third goal of the afternoon at the 3:13 mark to close out the first half and give the Terps the narrow 5-3 advantage.

The Terps would score three consecutive goals to open the second half as Sommar, Tori Wellington and Adams each scored to give the Terps an 8-3 lead. After a UNC timeout, Tar Heel junior Gray MacNair gave the Heels their first goal of the half at the 19:21 mark off an assist from Brooke Crawford.

Maryland would embark on another mini scoring drive beginning at the 19:03 mark, outscoring the Tar Heels 4-0, including two goals by Comito to seal the victory.

Alex Kahoe posted 14 saves while UNC's Debbie Castine, playing in 46 minutes, recorded six saves and allowed nine goals.

Jen Adams scored a career-high five goals and added three assists to lead the top-ranked Terrapins to an 18-8 win against 17th-ranked Syracuse. It marked Adams' fourth consecutive game in which she scored at least one point. Adams was one of four Terps to score multiple goals.

The Terps jumped out to an early 5-0 lead as Maryland attack Tori Wellington would score two of her three goals on the afternoon, including the first goal at the 2:58 mark. The Orangewomen charted their first goal of the game at the 19:24 mark off of a Lauren Brady free-position opportunity. The Terps outscored the Orange 3-0, including two goals by Allison Comito, to increase their halftime lead to 8-2.

The Orange would counter, however, beginning the second half with three consecutive goals to cut the Terrapin lead to 8-5 after Carrie Soults and Katrina Hable each scored off free-position opportunities. The Terps' first score of the second half came at the 37:41 mark when freshman midfielder Courtney Hobbs would connect off of a Comito-assisted ball.

Adams then took control, scoring all five of her goals in the second half, including three consecutive within a five-minute span. She would also assist on two late second-half goals.

Alex Kahoe charted 10 saves while Syracuse's Clothilde Ewing had 11.

Kristin Sommar and Jen Adams each recorded a hat trick as the Terrapins defeated the third-ranked Cavaliers 13-3 at UHall Turf Field.

Maryland scored first as Allison Comito made a charge from the left seven minutes into the contest. The Cavaliers tied the score five minutes later after a patient attack on a Samm Taylor charge from the restraining line. The Terrapins answered quickly as Quinn Carney took a crease feed from Comito two minutes later.

The Terrapins then scored three goals in an 80-second span to break open the game as Carney, Courtney Hobbs and Adams each scored. Virginia's Mills Hook cut into the lead with an unassisted goal at the 5:13 mark. After Virginia made a save on the next Terrapin possession, the Cavaliers looked to possess the ball for the final shot. Mia Mooney's shot was saved by Alex Kahoe and the Terrapins moved the ball downfield in 10 seconds where Sommar scored with two seconds on the clock to send the teams to halftime with Maryland leading 6-2.

In the second half, the Terrapins took control of the game, pressuring the Cavaliers to break half of their clears, scoring five goals in the first 15 minutes to stake an 11-2 lead. Virginia's Jamie Haas stopped the run with an unassisted goal at 2:43, but the Terrapins scored twice in the final two minutes for the final score of 13-3.

Christie Jenkins and Courtney Hobbs scored the first two goals in the first 10 minutes of the game and the Terps never looked back en route to a 14-4 win against Dartmouth.

Dartmouth cut the lead in half at the 13:54 mark when Alison Moulin notched her first collegiate goal.

Jenkins upped the lead to two again, before Jacque Weitzel recorded the first of her three tallies to make the score 3-2 with 11:52 to play in the first half. After a timeout, Maryland came right out and scored off the ensuing draw. Jenkins then scored her third, and by the time the half rolled around the Terps led, 6-3.

The second half was all Maryland, as the Terps scored four times in the first 5:55 of the stanza and followed Dartmouth's only goal with four more. Allison Comito scored a pair of goals and assisted another, while Jenkins added two more to give her five on the day. Quinn Carney also tallied two goals.

Jen Adams and Quinn Carney each scored five goals to lead the top-ranked Terps to an 18-3 win against Brown. The Terps broke open a tie game with three goals to close out the first half, giving them a 6-3 advantage at halftime.

The Bears jumped on the board first with just 2:41 expired when Jenny McNamara fired a shot past Maryland keeper Alex Kahoe for a 1-0 advantage. After an Adams' goal, the Bears jumped on top again when Emily Boynton tallied her team-leading fifth goal of the season to push the lead to 2-1. Maryland took the lead for good with 18:41 gone in the first on a free position tally by Christie Jenkins. Elizabeth Rogers closed out the scoring for the Bears with a goal at the 22:27 mark of the first to tie the game for the final time.

Overtime

Midfielder Kristin Sommar scored at the 65:23 mark in overtime, and the Terps held on for a 12-11 come-from-behind victory against the fifth-ranked James Madison Dukes at Byrd Stadium.

The game was as close as the score indicated all afternoon long with neither team able to control more than a two-goal lead, and for the first time this season, the Terps found themselves trailing late in the second half. The game was knotted at 8-8 at the 46:50 mark before JMU attack Jamie Pleyo netted her fifth goal of the afternoon off an assist from Megan Riley at the 53:50 mark to give the Dukes a 9-8 lead. Maryland midfielder Christie Jenkins found the net a little over two minutes later to tie the game for the fifth time in the contest. Maryland's Jen Adams and Allison Comito would chart back-to-back goals, respectively, to give the Terps an 11-9 lead, their largest since the 4:20 mark of the first half.

Jenkins led all Terps on offense with three goals while sophomore Quinn Carney added two goals and an assist. Adams also contributed two assists.

Attack Allison Comito netted a career-high six goals and added three assists to lead the top-ranked Terps to a 21-9 victory against eighth-ranked Georgetown in Washington, D.C. It marked the third consecutive game that the Terps netted 21 goals.

The Terps scored early as Quinn Carney accepted a quick pass from Comito at the 1:16 mark. Comito would connect next, scoring just one of her five first-half goals to put the Terps ahead 2-0. Georgetown would cut the lead to 2-1 at the four-minute mark.

Maryland would then hold the Hoya attack silent for 10 minutes and would score three consecutive goals. The Hoyas would cut the lead to 8-6 just before the half and the Terps answered, scoring four goals to close out the half, including two by Jen Adams.

In the second half, the Terps outscored the Hoyas 9-3 en route to the 21-9 win. Adams would net two more goals while Christie Jenkins also punched in two.

Maryland's Alex Kahoe registered 14 saves while allowing the nine goals.

Maryland attack Allison Comito and midfielder Christie Jenkins each recorded a hat trick to lead the top-ranked Terrapins to a 14-4 win against 15th-ranked William & Mary at Ludwig Field. Comito and Jenkins were two of four Terps to post multiple goals. Jen Adams and Quinn Carney each added two goals apiece. It marked Adams' 27th consecutive game and Carney's 21st that they each have scored at least one point.

Maryland came out firing, opening up a 7-0 lead before the Tribe managed to get on the board at the 19:07 mark. Comito put the Terps ahead early as she scored unassisted at the 1:42 mark while Jenkins would ink two of her three goals in the first half.

Comito scored two of her three goals in the second half as she would connect off of a Jenkins-assisted ball at the 33:40 mark, and followed that with a goal off an Adams' assist at the 36:31 mark.

Maryland junior goalkeeper Alex Kahoe charted 13 saves in 60 minutes.

Overtime

Attack Jen Adams scored a career-high and tournament-high seven goals and added three assists to lead the top-ranked Terrapins to a 19-17 overtime victory against North Carolina in the semifinals of the ACC Tournament.

In a game supposed to feature two of the top two defensive teams in the country, the Terrapins and Tar Heels combined for seven goals in the first eight minutes of the contest. The 19 goals given up by the Tar Heels marked the most goals ever scored by an opponent. The 17 goals given up by the Terrapins are their most since 1975.

North Carolina nearly completed one of the greatest comebacks in women's lacrosse history. With 15 minutes remaining in the game, Maryland appeared to have locked up a victory and final round berth in the tournament, leading the Tar Heels 15-8. Then, in the 46th minute, North Carolina began a scoring tear, which would eventually lead to the Tar Heels scoring seven unanswered goals in the final 15 minutes of regulation. In the overtime period, the Tar Heels did not have the answer to Maryland's Adams, who capped her seven-goal performance with Maryland's first and fourth goals of the six-minute period.

Top-ranked Maryland played outstanding defense and took advantage of its scoring opportunities to defeat second-ranked Virginia 13-5 in the championship game of the 1999 Atlantic Coast Conference women's lacrosse championship.

Tournament MVP Jen Adams scored three goals and had three assists to lead the Terrapins to their 23rd consecutive victory over the past two seasons. Christie Jenkins was also instrumental to the Terps' success as she netted four goals. Meanwhile, goalkeeper Alex Kahoe made 18 saves for the Terps while allowing only five goals.

Adams opened the scoring for the Terps when she scored an unassisted goal with 25:40 left in the first half. Just 16 seconds later Virginia tied the game on a fast-break goal by Mills Hook, assisted by Jessica Hull. Meredith Egan put the Terps up for good in the game with 19:26 left in the first half when she scored on a free position shot. Jenkins' first goal and Adams' second goal increased the Maryland lead to 4-1, but back-to-back goals by Jamie Haas pulled the Cavaliers within 4-3 with 8:15 left in the first half. Quinn Carney closed the scoring in the first half for Maryland to increase the Terps' lead to 5-3.

The second half was virtually all Maryland as the Terps outscored the Cavaliers 8-2. Jenkins and Kristin Sommar scored early goals to push the lead to four goals before UVA's Samm Taylor got the Cavaliers back with 7-4 within 23:45 to play.

Quinn Carney took a long feed from Kristin Sommar at the 68:31 mark in sudden-death overtime to lift the top-ranked Terps to an 8-7 win against sixth-ranked Princeton. The play ensued after Alex Kahoe intercepted a Tice Burke pass, which was intended for Julie Shaner. Kahoe quickly cleared the ball to Sommar who, in turn, threw the long ball to Carney.

The game was tied at half after each team exchanged goals. The Tigers took the lead at the 25:50 mark off of a goal from Julie Shaner, assisted by Cristi Samaras. The Terps then tied the game at the 27:32 mark following a Courtney Martinez pass to Sommar.

The Terps eventually would take a two-goal lead at the 46:44 mark after Jen Adams converted off of a free position shot. Following a Princeton timeout, Tiger Cristi Samaras would knot back-to-back goals to tie the contest once again and force overtime. The two teams played a scoreless six-minute overtime period to force sudden death.

Game 18
May 1
Maryland 17, Loyola 9

Attack Allison Comito tied her season-best goal performance as she netted six goals to lead the top-ranked Terps past the 10th-ranked Loyola Greyhounds, 17-9.

Maryland opened the contest scoring five consecutive goals, including back-to-back goals by Terp attack Jen Adams, before the Greyhounds would net their first goal at the 16:48 mark after Stacey Morlang took a Maria DiTommaso assisted ball and converted past Maryland goalkeeper Alex Kahoe.

The Terrapin defense proved stingy throughout most of the first half, allowing only three goals on the 'Hounds' 12 shots on goal, and Kahoe would post five of her 12 saves in the first half.

The Greyhounds, however, made an early second-half surge, cutting the Terps' 10-3 halftime lead to 11-8 at the 45:26 mark. Loyola's Kathleen O'Shea would chart back-to-back goals at the 31:05 and 36:34 marks to narrow the advantage. However, the Terps answered the run by scoring four straight before Loyola could score again.

NCAA Quarterfinals

Game 19
May 8
Maryland 17, Georgetown 6

Maryland attack Allison Comito scored a career-high seven goals to lead the top-ranked Terps past the seventh-ranked Georgetown Hoyas, 17-6, in an NCAA quarterfinal game. Maryland improved its record to 19-0 overall and makes its 10th consecutive trip to the NCAA Final Four. Maryland is the four-time defending national champion.

Maryland opened the contest scoring six consecutive goals, including three consecutive goals by Comito within a five-minute time span, before the Hoyas would net their first at the 14:18 mark when Kristen Baer took an Erin Elbe assist and converted past Maryland keeper Alex Kahoe.

The Hoyas tried to threaten early in the second half, scoring at the 31:16 mark off of an Erin Elbe goal. That cut the Maryland lead to 11-4, but the Terps then went on a scoring run of their own, answering Elbe's goal at the 31:27 mark. Attack Quinn Carney slipped a shot past Hoya goalkeeper Bowen Holden off an assist from Christie Jenkins. Jenkins would finish the day with four goals and two assists.

Terrapin Jen Adams had three goals which makes her the Maryland record holder for goals in a single-season with 63, breaking former Terp Kelly Amonte's single-season record of 62 goals in 1996.

NCAA Semifinals

Game 20
May 14
Maryland 17, Penn State 13

Eight Terrapins contributed to a balanced offensive attack as top-seed Maryland was a 17-13 winner over fifth-seed Penn State in the NCAA semifinals in Baltimore. Maryland improved to 20-0 while Penn State finished its season with a 15-5 record. Maryland earned its sixth-consecutive title-game appearance and will look to extend their streak to five-straight championship crowns. Penn State did open a 6-2 lead, leaving Maryland with its largest deficit of the 1999 season. Maryland responded with a 7-2 run to take a 9-8 lead at the half. The Nittany Lions struck first in the second half, tying the game 9-9, but Maryland secured a lead they would not relinquish with 27:19 remaining thanks to the first of Christie Jenkins' three second-half goals.

Jen Adams led the Maryland offense with four goals and two assists. Adams broke Maryland's single-season point record. She ran her season tally to 112 points with the win. Kristin Sommar contributed three goals and three assists for Maryland. Christie Jenkins and Allison Comito scored three goals apiece, while Quinn Carney added two goals and three assists. Maryland's Alex Kahoe recorded 14 saves.

Penn State was led by Jen Webb's four goals, while Jen Johnson pitched in with three goals and one assist. Emily Mechem and Colleen O'Brien added three goals each. Megan Ames made nine saves for the Lions.

Two national collegiate tournament records were established in the game as the two teams combined for 30 goals. Penn State's Julie Tice collected four assists in the game, giving her 11 for the tournament and breaking the old mark of seven.

NCAA Finals

Game 21
May 16
Maryland 16, Virginia 6

Top-ranked Maryland scored early and often as the Terrapins won their fifth consecutive NCAA title with a 16-6 victory over Virginia. Maryland's Jen Adams, the tournament MVP, led all scorers with four goals and added an assist to help the Terps claim their eighth NCAA lacrosse title.

The Terrapins jumped out to a 4-0 lead in the first 10 minutes of the game before the Cavaliers got on the board at 17:09 as Jamie Haas scored in her record 18th consecutive game. Maryland then scored two more goals to take a 6-1 lead before Haas found Mills Hook on the crease to cut the deficit to 6-2. But the Terrapins scored the final five goals of the period to take an 11-2 lead into the break.

In the second half, the Terps continued their onslaught of the Virginia cage, scoring the next five goals to take a 16-2 lead. The Cavaliers closed out the game by scoring the final four goals of the game, including a hat trick by Samm Taylor in the final five minutes to make the final score 16-6.

Virginia closes out the season with its second consecutive runner-up trophy and third in the last four years. In addition, the Cavaliers ended the season at 15-6, with the 21 games being the most played in a single season in Virginia history. Haas set two records in 1999, scoring in 18 consecutive games and setting the record for points scored as a second year with her 59. The 59 points also ranks ninth all-time for a single season.

2000 ACC Tournament

April 22-23, 2000
at Ludwig Field, College Park, Md.

The University of Maryland is proud to host this year's ACC Championships on April 22 and 23 at Ludwig Field. The year 2000 will mark the first time in the tournament's four-year history that Maryland will be the host school. The Terrapins have won the tournament twice, in 1997 and '99. Virginia took the 1998 championship home. Maryland is a combined 4-1 in ACC tournament action. Semifinal games will be held on April 22 at 1 and 3 p.m., with the championship game being held at 1 p.m. on April 23.

University of Maryland

LEADING THE WAY INTO THE 21st CENTURY

- A Carnegie Research-I University
- Member, Association of American Universities
- Flagship of the University System of Maryland
- Division I NCAA Athletics

"Strive for clarity, but accept and understand ambiguity."

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Ten years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment.

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions, and accept ambiguity."

And we also hope you enjoy the journey.

The Campus

The University of Maryland, College Park, is the most comprehensive institution of higher education, research and service in the state. The university offers 100 undergraduate majors, 88 master's programs and 69 doctoral programs in 13 colleges and schools.

The university is one of only 30 public research universities that are members of the prestigious 58-member Association of American Universities. It is classified as a Research-I university by the Carnegie Foundation by virtue of the range of its baccalaureate programs, the amount of federal support received and the number of doctoral degrees awarded each year, sharing that honor with the top research universities in the country.

Among the public universities in the Association of American Universities, Maryland ranks among the top in percentage of African-American undergraduate students. In addition, the university has the largest number of African-Americans and other minority members among its peers.

Flagship Status

In 1988, the University of Maryland, College Park, was designated as the flagship institution for the University System of Maryland. As well as pursuing a serious research mission and continuing its high level of service to the state, the university rededicated itself to providing the highest quality graduate and undergraduate education. Increased undergraduate opportunities for research and individual study; the development of the College Park Scholars Program and the expansion of the University Honors Program; the genesis of Honors Humanities and Gemstone; the creation of CORE, the general education program; and the establishment of the Center for Teaching Excellence all affirmed the legislature's designation of flagship.

Libraries

Seven libraries make up the University of Maryland library system: McKeldin (main) Library, Architecture Library, Art Library, Engineering and Physical Sciences Library, Hornbake Library, Performing Arts Library, White Memorial (Chemistry) Library.

These libraries constitute the largest university research library institution in the Washington metropolitan area, providing vital resources to researchers, visiting scholars, and businesses throughout the region. The libraries' holdings include more than 2.5 million volumes, 24,000 subscriptions to periodicals and nearly 5 million items available in microfilm format.

Research

Opportunities for conducting research abound at the University of Maryland, and in the surrounding area, both for faculty to advance their own expertise and bring their insights into the classroom, and for students to begin their exploration of their special interests with practical experience. On campus, special facilities and a number of organized research centers, bureaus, and institutes promote the acquisition and analysis of new knowledge in the arts, sciences and applied fields.

The university's enviable location — just nine miles from downtown Washington, D.C., and approximately 30 miles from both Baltimore and Annapolis — enhances the research of its faculty and students by providing access to some of the finest libraries and research centers in the country.

Service

Programs of public service are central to the overall mission of the university. The philosophy is reflected in the wide array of programs and initiatives that benefit the state's business, agriculture and education communities.

With more than 90 high technology firms in the three-county area of Montgomery, Prince George's and Frederick counties, the university has found abundant opportunity to extend its business and technology outreach programs to the region. Many of these programs are part of the Engineering Research Center, which operates the Technology Advancement Program and the Maryland Industrial Partnerships, programs designed to provide Maryland entrepreneurs and small businesses with research facilities, technical assistance, administrative support, and access to technology that will advance their economic base.

The Institute for Systems Research has formed partnerships with major corporations, including Lockheed Martin, Westinghouse, BF Goodrich, Hughes Aircraft and Dupont to apply advanced systems research to solving industry problems in the fields of communications, manufacturing, controls and robotics.

A Wired World

Students at the University of Maryland are part of an academic community that enjoys free access to networked computer resources and facilities that are among the best in the country. Free computer accounts enable users to store class work on a networked server, download classroom support materials and other electronic information from campus networked resources.

C.D. Mote, Jr.
University President

C.D. (Dan) Mote Jr. took office as president in September 1998 with a clear vision for taking the University of Maryland down the home stretch to its destiny as one of America's great research universities.

Mote came to Maryland from the University of California at Berkeley, where he had earned all of his degrees, and where he had served in faculty and administration more than 30 years. He had most recently been vice chancellor for university relations.

In Maryland, he found a university already well on its way to achieving the greatness envisioned when the General Assembly declared it the flagship institution of the University System of Maryland. Mote immediately took a leadership role on the Governor's Task Force on Governance, Coordination and Funding of the University System of Maryland to gain greater autonomy and flexibility for the university to pursue its goals. He followed that by working closely with state leaders to boost university funding for new programs, scholarships and faculty, gaining a 10 percent appropriations increase in his first year.

When the legislature had finished its work for the year, Mote spelled out in his inauguration address his vision of Maryland as a great research university, where teaching and research are "inseparable." In this plan, the faculty creates a culture of excellence that permeates the university, student success is the center of all activity, and the extended Maryland family of alumni and friends grows rich in pride and tradition.

High achievement has been Dan Mote's life, from his student days at the University of California through his years as an outstanding teacher and world-renowned researcher and his leadership of a highly successful capital campaign at Berkeley. He arrived in College Park determined to continue the same level of achievement in his new post.

After earning his doctorate in engineering mechanics from Berkeley in 1963, Mote spent a year as a research fellow at the University of Birmingham in England, then three years as assistant professor of mechanical engineering at the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh before returning to Berkeley in 1967.

There he stayed for more than 30 years before coming to Maryland. He was promoted to professor in 1973.

Mote and his wife Patsy live in the President's Residence on the College Park campus. They have two grown children and four grandchildren.

Maryland Athletics

Among The Nation's Best

This is Maryland Athletics

At the University of Maryland, winning is not taken lightly. Like the rich history of all its sports programs, championships are a tradition.

Since the 1950s, Maryland has established itself as one of the most successful athletic programs in the nation. This type of success is no accident; it has been built year-by-year on the achievements of outstanding young men and women who were given the opportunity to excel both on and off the field of play. The victories, the championships and the national acclaim are all ingredients of the Maryland athletic program. Student-athletes who attend Maryland are part of a program and a university which thrives on tradition and excellence.

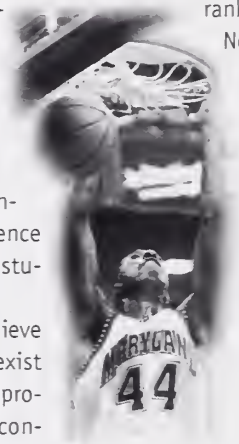
Academic Excellence

The University of Maryland considers intercollegiate athletics an integral part of the collegiate experience. Its existence provides an opportunity for students, faculty, alumni and students to share in the life of intercollegiate athletics.

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to achieve the same standards of excellence in its athletic program as exist within the university's teaching, research and public service programs. The department embraces the concept that the student-athlete is first and foremost a student, possessing academic abilities, personal interests and ambitions comparable to those of the other members of the student body. Since 1983, 88 percent of freshmen scholarship athletes who completed their eligibility at the University of Maryland earned their degrees.

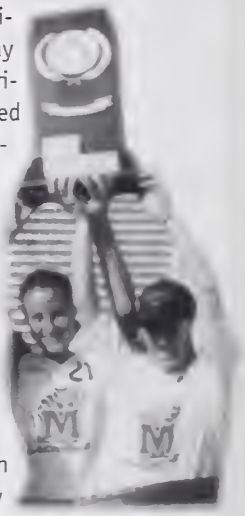
Goals

The great thing about being a Terrapin is the commitment to hard work and dedication. At the University of Maryland, the athletic department is dedicated to supporting a well-balanced Division I program. Athletic director Deborah A. Yow and her dedicated coaches, administrators and staff have re-engineered the department into a responsive and financially sound model — with a clear vision and a determined drive toward national prominence.



Athletic Success

National championships, conference championships, national rankings and postseason play are all a part of the University of Maryland experience. The University of Maryland has established itself as one of the nation's elite athletic programs. The Terrapins have won 13 national championships, including a record five consecutive by the women's lacrosse team. The Terrapins had plenty of reason to celebrate when it came to intercollegiate athletics in 1998-99, as they posted their second consecutive Top 25 finish in the national Sears Directors' Cup all-sports ranking. Its 38-position jump from the No. 57 spot in 1994-95 to the No. 19 spot in 1997-98 was the greatest in that time by a school not previously ranked in the top 25.

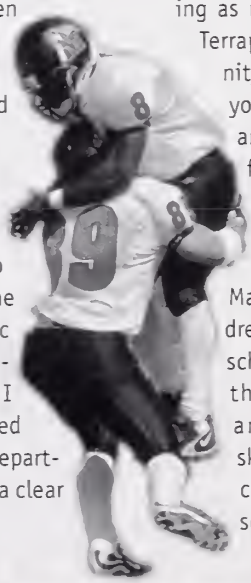


Competition

Wearing the Maryland uniform means playing in front of some of the loudest and most supportive fans in the nation. It means playing against the best teams in the country, in the most prestigious conference in the country, the ACC. It means wearing the school colors with pride. It means doing your best in athletics and academics. It is a unique and special feeling being a Terrapin.

Athletes in the Community

From the media spotlight to the community spotlight, Terrapin student-athletes strengthen the ties of the local community by serving as role models. Community service is a key part of the Terrapins' agenda. Student-athletes support many community programs which help to enrich the lives of Maryland youth while teaching the importance of studying hard and saying "no" to drugs and alcohol. Representatives from the University of Maryland athletic department speak to participants and use their image and the appeal of sports to encourage Maryland children to stay in school, improve their reading and writing skills, and to receive their high school diplomas.



Five-Time Defending National Champions

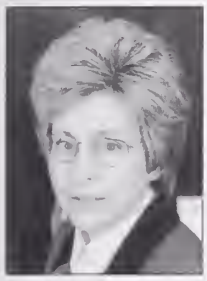
Athletic Director Deborah A. Yow

Yow to assume presidency of NACDA in July 2000

Dr. Deborah A. Yow has led Terrapin athletics to balanced budgets, high levels of productivity and achievement and a vigorous commitment to excellence throughout its operations. She is in her sixth year as Maryland's director of athletics.

Since taking over at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization.
- Balanced all five of the more than $25 million annual budgets (the first balanced budgets for the Terrapins in 10 years).
- Improved graduation rates for student-athletes, above that of the general student population, in three of those five years.



- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 10 percent of all NCAA Division I schools.
- Reorganized and upgraded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased 85% and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by 270% during her tenure at Maryland.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Paid off $7 million in operating debt accrued before her arrival in 1994.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fundraising applications.
- Significantly improved customer service in every area.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past five years, Debbie Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied ... our vision is to be one of the top 10 programs in the nation consistently ... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools ... to work hard and work smart ... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves." As a manager and leader, she clearly models these principles.

Dr. Yow is a member of the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee. In addition, she will become president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics in July 2000, and was recently singled out by Street & Smith Sports Business Journal as one of the leading athletic administrators in the U.S.

A former basketball coach, she began her coaching career at the high school level in North Carolina before taking over as head women's coach at the University of Kentucky in 1976. She also achieved an outstanding coaching record as head coach at the University of Florida. She later moved into athletic administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina-Greensboro, followed by a highly successful tenure as A.D. at Saint Louis University.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics, management, and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Summing up the entire Terrapin athletic program, Yow recently observed, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets and our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the Maryland Educational Foundation and M Club members who serve and give liberally. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our successes ... and the basis for our bright future."

Athletic Administration

Rob Mullens
Sr. Associate A.D./ Internal Operations

Rob Mullens, who joined the Terps' staff as assistant athletic director for business in the summer of 1996, was elevated to associate athletic director for administration in January 1999 and to senior associate athletic director for internal operations in February.

Mullens assists the athletic director with the overall administration of the athletic department's internal operations in addition to assisting with the operation of football and men's basketball. He also oversees the supervision of 15 sports and is responsible for overseeing the business office, ticket office, facilities and operations, and the computer systems analyst. As the chief financial officer, Mullens is directly responsible for the department's $25 million annual budget.

Mullens graduated cum laude in 1991 from West Virginia with a degree in business administration. He earned a master's degree in sport management at West Virginia in 1993. Prior to his appointment at Maryland, he was senior business manager and the chief budget officer for the University of Miami (Fla.) athletic department (1994-96).

Dave Haglund
Associate A.D./ Media Relations

Dave Haglund joined the University of Maryland athletic staff in January of 1998 following a 16-year career in the sports information office at Fresno State University. At Maryland he serves as the administrative head of the Terrapins' media relations unit, overseeing the development and implementation of initiatives to provide publicity for the university's 25 varsity sports and more than 600 student-athletes.

He was promoted to associate athletic director in February 1999 and assumed responsibilities as sport supervisor for men's and women's lacrosse and men's and women's swimming.

A 1981 graduate of Oregon State University, Haglund began his sports information career as an assistant SID at Fresno State in 1981 and was elevated to sports information director in 1996.

Haglund and his wife, Cindy, are the parents of two children: Samantha (6) and Matthew (4).

Five-Time Defending National Champions

Academic Support & Career Development

The University of Maryland considers intercollegiate athletics an integral part of the collegiate experience. Its existence provides an opportunity for students, faculty, alumni and students to share in the life of intercollegiate athletics.

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to achieve the same standards of excellence in its athletics program as exist within the university's teaching, research and public service programs. The department embraces the concept that the student-athlete is first and foremost a student, possessing academic abilities, personal interests and ambitions comparable to those of the other members of the student body.

The mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit, headed by assistant athletic director Demetrius Marlowe, is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that enhance the academic progress, facilitate the career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of every student-athlete.

MAPS Directory

This directory, the Maryland Athletes Placement Source, is produced annually by the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin their professional careers.

Distributed to more than 1,000 corporations and businesses around the region, prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resumé information relative to academic, career and personal achievements.

Career Information Fairs

Career Awareness in Academic Support is expanding to include a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the semester. Career awareness is an ongoing process and includes assistance with resume writing and interview skills. The end of the semester brings a career awareness fair which hosts a number of professionals with whom student-athletes can learn about career interests and planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen area of interest.

Team Maryland

Team Maryland is a class taught in conjunction with the campus' James McGregor Burns Academy of Leadership in which student-athletes are exposed to leadership and public speaking skills and techniques. The program consists of a group of volunteer student-athletes who learn about the challenges for children in the community by speaking to elementary schools about drug abuse and education. In addition to school visits, Team Maryland has hosted visits from local schools to our campus.

Strength & Conditioning

Collegiate lacrosse has evolved to the point where total physical preparation is necessary to successfully compete on the Division I level. It has become extremely important to strength and conditioning coach Barry Kagan that all of the Terrapin athletes are prepared through training to maximize their athletic development in terms of strength and conditioning. The high level of dedication by the members of the lacrosse team have brought about spectacular achievements in the weight room and in competition.

The objective of the strength and conditioning program for lacrosse is based on the enhancement of performance as well as the prevention of injuries. Kagan makes every attempt to accommodate the different training needs of each individual athlete.

The preparation of a student-athlete to compete in lacrosse goes beyond strength and power training in the weight room. Speed improvement, flexibility, plyometrics, nutrition, agility and conditioning are also important ingredients in the preparation of the lacrosse team here at Maryland. The strength and conditioning staff puts a great emphasis on improving the quickness of the Terps through increased mechanical efficiency and the improvement of acceleration of maximum velocity.

This is one ECHO that doesn't repeat anything.

CENTER-MOUNTED INSTRUMENT PANEL. MEGA STORAGE SPACE. ELBOW ROOM APLENTY. JUST A FEW FEATURES THAT MAKE THE TOYOTA ECHO LIKE NO OTHER SUBCOMPACT ON THE ROAD. OH, AND SINCE SOME THINGS ARE WORTH REPEATING, YOU'LL GET THE SAME GREAT QUALITY YOU EXPECT FROM TOYOTA AT A TOTALLY REFRESHING PRICE. WHICH MEANS THIS IS AN ECHO YOU'LL BE HEARING A LOT ABOUT.

Starting at $9,995. Destination charge $485.
Total MSRP $10,480. As shown $13,370.*
